EXPERIENCE

StartGuides — Remote
Application Designer — 06/2019 - Present

- StartGuides is a communications company that creates dynamic, easy-to-follow, intuitive mobile apps that are used by branches of the US military. These apps allow equipment operators and maintainers to quickly set up, operate and troubleshoot complicated equipment.
- I am currently employed with StartGuides as an App Designer/Developer. I am responsible for creating interactive mobile applications based on information from our clients and illustrations from our talented illustrators. Our apps are Adobe based (InDesign), and incorporate the use of MSO (Multi-state Objects) and button functions. In addition to creating INDD files, I am responsible for taking those files from INDD to HTML using epubs and Adobe Dreamweaver.
- Other responsibilites include:
- Troubleshooting issues that arise in Adobe InDesign-based apps, including MSO (Multi-state Objects) and button functions
- Acting as a hub between content developers and illustrators, guiding content and illustration based on software capabilities and size limitations
- Improving functionality of Adobe InDesign-based military apps by troubleshooting MSO and button function issues
- Facilitating collaboration between content developers and illustrators, optimizing design within software constraints
